

LA VOLÉE

(fr.) getting off the ground, taking off, flock of birds

La Volée is a double bathroom sink design that fits into modern office interiors.

The shape is inspired by the lightness and grace of a bird's wings.

The design of the La Volée sink comes from the need to reduce space during transport. The dimensions of our design are intended to save space by reducing approximately 20% of the packaging of a standard double sink.

It will also need less filling to be protected during transportation.

Our design uses fiberglass as its base material. La Volée is a sink that allows two people to use it at the same time. During usage the water from two taps flows into one siphon, which allows us to save even more space.
